

12/08/10

Media Alert

Governor Dave Heineman Supports Local Agriculture Company – GrainBridge, LLC

Waterloo, Neb. -- Governor Dave Heineman will celebrate the advances in agriculture technology with a new Nebraska based company. GrainBridge has developed a one-of-a-kind software technology for the agriculture industry. An Open House and ribbon cutting will take place at the GrainBridge office in downtown Waterloo on December 22, 2010. Local businesses, customers and the Governor will be on hand to celebrate local business growth in agriculture technology and employment opportunities in rural Nebraska. Governor Heineman will be presented with an Honorary GrainBridge account.

Celebration & Open House:

WHEN: Wednesday, December 22, 2010

TIME: 2:00 pm – 2:30 pm (Introductions, demonstration and future outlook)
2:30 pm – 2:40 pm (Presentation of Honorary GrainBridge account)
2:40 pm – 3:00 pm (social and pictures)

WHERE: GrainBridge Headquarters - 301 3rd Street, Waterloo, NE 68069

About GrainBridge:

GrainBridge (www.grainbridge.com) provides agribusiness and grain producers with cash grain risk management, procurement and communication software to help increase efficiencies, productivity and profitability. GrainBridge offers its services to multiple agribusinesses in over 20 of the major grain states.

“The GrainBridge system gives me a quick snapshot of my grain business and helps me make a disciplined decision in a volatile market,” said Brain Nedrow, grain producer - Geneva, Nebraska.

For more information, please contact:

Pat Kroese
Vice President of Marketing
GrainBridge, LLC
800-515-5657 – office
402-741-2177 – mobile
pat.kroese@grainbridge.com

###